CONTRIBUTIONS

The editor welcomes contributions, and an author's template can be found under the Submissions link on the website.

The aim of Landscape Review is to showcase the relationship between research and professional practice in the field of landscape architecture. It offers a forum for scholarly writing and critique on a wide range of topics that particularly impact Oceania and, more broadly, the rest of the world.

We encourage articles that further develop research ideas and findings from previously published peer-reviewed sources, critiques or reflections, to analyse and synthesise them for impact within professional practice and/or academic research.

For further information on the types of submission, please go to https://journals.lincoln.ac.nz/index.php/lr/about/submissions.
